

Tortoise Energy Independence Fund, Inc.

Privacy Policy

Tortoise Energy Independence Fund, Inc. (the “Company”) is committed to acting with integrity and to adhering to the highest standards of business practice. The Company will work hard to maintain your privacy; however, the nature of our business requires that we collect and, in some instances share, certain information about you with other organizations or companies. Therefore, we want you to be aware of how your personal information will be treated. This Privacy Policy explains how the Company handles your personal information and the procedures that we will follow to ensure your privacy.

What Type Of Personal Information Will The Company Collect Or Receive?

Generally, the Company does not collect any non-public personal information about you, although certain non-public personal information about you may become available to the Company from various sources, including:

- Information we may receive from you, such as your name, address and phone number, your social security number and your assets, income, other household information and any other information you may provide to the Company;
- Information about your transactions with the Company, our affiliates, or others, such as your account balances, transaction history, and claims you make; and
- Information from visitors to our website provided through online forms, site visitorship data, and online information collecting devices known as “cookies.”

How Will The Company Use This Information?

The Company does not sell lists of client information. No personal information, regardless of the source, regarding any customer or consumer, may be disclosed except as follows:

- To the employees of the Company’s investment adviser and administrator in connection with the Company’s business;
- To an affiliate, but the affiliate may disclose the information only to the same extent as the Company; or
- To nonaffiliated third parties with whom the Company has a contractual agreement to jointly offer, endorse, market or sponsor a financial product or service; and/or to service and maintain customer accounts including effectuating a transaction.

If you access the Company’s products or services through another financial intermediary, your intermediary’s policy will govern how it uses your personal information.

Your Right To Opt Out

The Company does not sell or distribute non-public financial information to third parties; however, if, in the future, the Company’s policies were to change, you would be notified and provided an opportunity to opt out of the Company’s disclosure of that information.

How We Keep Your Information Secure and Confidential

The Company restricts your personal and account information to those individuals who need to know that information to service your account. The Company also maintains physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect your information.

Disposal of Your Information Derived from a Consumer Report

In the unlikely event the Company obtains non-public consumer report information (as that term is defined in Regulation S-P) about you and the Company no longer needs such information, the Company will dispose of such information as follows: If such information is in paper form, the Company will shred any papers containing such information so that such information may not be practicably read or reconstructed. If such information is in electronic form, the Company will permanently erase such information from the electronic device holding such information such that it can no longer be practicably read or reconstructed.

Questions?

Any questions regarding the Company's policies and procedures should be directed to Diane M. Bono, at 913-981-1020.